TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1893

The Orphan Brigade will meet this year at Versailles, Ky., September 27 and 28.

The gold reserve in the Treasury was increased nearly a million last week. It was $96,985,117.

The Charitable Institutions law was passed to meet an emergency claim and will not take effect until October 3d.

Maxwell's record for turning out four class postmasters is 4,264 and held Clarkston's for the first four months.

The World's Fair stakes were $20,000 and the winners were F. E. Day by Foshall Keene's coat El Tello.

The accident has been fast fit with a rheumatic foot, but is now getting better. Exercise is more agreeable than kicking Republicans out of office.

At Meadow Lawn, Ky., a village built by the Southern Pacific, there is an Indiana white girl of good family, closed with a coal black farm laborer.

The educational law provides for the election of a School Superintendent in November 1893, whose term of office shall begin September 1, 1894.

It is predicted that George Brown will veto the resolution appointing a codifying committee of three members from each house of the late legislature.

The London Telegraph says the alleged fragment of the Blarney Stone at Chicago is a cruel fake and that the original stone in Ireland remains intact.

All of the Tech-nicalities in regard to the royal wedding have been compiled with Prince George and his late brother's ex-mah have gone to honeymoon in St. James palace.

Col. Ed Porter Thompson, superintendent of public instruction, has decided the county school boards must secure sufficient to be eligible for re-election under the new school law.

Miss Brooks, of Paris, who according to her post-mitigation confession was giddy to badness for twenty years, was a Brook of the Teutony variety. She came pretty fine running to the altar in St. James palace.

Pomery, Iowa, was wrecked by an awful cyclone Friday and 48 lives were lost. About two hundred houses were killed in the storm, leaving a mortally list of nearly seventy persons. The loss to property was over twenty very heavy.

The Supreme Court, dict of partition held Friday, 23d June. It was appointed from New York by President Arthur in 1882. Among those mentioned for his place on the bench are Hon. E. W. Judges, Justices E. H. La combe, Jas. C. Carter and Frederick C. Coudert.

The Cincinnati Sun says Col. J. Barnett, Atlanta, who has been a long time forester at Morganfield, has been dismissed by Capt. Ellis, has been disappointed by a ruling of the department not to appoint any commissioners to the office of the chief of the office, except those it is believed that Col. Adams will withdraw in the interest of John Madison. There are four or five candidates now out and hustling.

Gow, Brown finally left the charter for fourth-class cities became a law without his signature after all, after forcing the Legislature to eliminate one of the few features of the bill, the act of the Governor that left very best friends in the cities concerned are bound to regard with feelings of the strongest disapproval. If the Governor had his first, that is, he did in the end, the will not be found in that place for an indefinite period.

MATRIMONIAL.

HARVEY-BRANCE. — Stephen G. Harvey and Miss Ollie Branch were married at Key West, Fla., June 29. The bride was raised in this city and is the daughter of the late James D. Russell, Jr., of Daviess county, vice M. L. Foland, salary $900. Office address—Walton Smart, of Breckinridge county, salary $800. T. Cary, of McLean county, vice R. W. Adams, salary $1,000 and expenses.

JAINTON—Cal Thomas, of Daviess county, vice Wm. Watt, salary $720.

CO. TOWNS. — Mr. W. S. Fehard has been in that place for an indefinite period.

The reports that The California Illustrated Magazine has been affected by the financial panic that has swept over the country, are without foundation. The John and J. A. issues need for themselves, and the Publishers propose to increase the circulation of the Magazine with every issue. The August issue will be especially rich in fiction.

A feature of the issue will be an illustrated article by Hon. Morris M. Estes, of San Francisco, and Hon. Abbot Kinney, of Los Angeles, on the question of the West.

The Presbyterian Theological Seminary has been established at Louisville by the Associated Synods of Kentucky and Missouri, in connection with the General Assembly.

United States. — A thorough course of instruction has been provided and a faculty of instruction arranged which includes such eminent men as Rev. W. G. Macague, D. J. Herk, C. R. Chapman, D. S. and Rev. T. D. C. Chapman. The list of Directors contains ten names from each of the states of Kentucky and Missouri. For Kentucky the list is headed by Rev. W. L. Nourse, D. D. of this city.

The Kentucky delegation to the Christian Education Convention in Boston was a surprising one. It reports, assigned to quarters in the worst part of the city and were so much dissatisfied with their surroundings that they went to a hotel at $5 a day. The hotel was closed and the door meeting was closed by a Catholic mob. The trip from these accounts has not been altogether as pleasant as was expected. The Hopkinsville crowd are now at the World's Fair.

Paris, Ky., comes to the front with a scandal in high life. Joseph Howerton, a wealthy older in the Presbyterian church, three years ago married Miss Sallie Black, a woman of 27 years. The right wife gave birth to a son, the people were saying their prayers. Howerton says the husband asked his wife if she could look him in the face with her hands on the Bible and she said she could not. The boy was born in the river.

Miller. — He was for two years an employee in the Laclede hotel in Hickman, and was known as a respectable character. He was well known all over the state and in Kentucky and in all the towns he holds a high place.

DEATHS.

McHUGH—Postmaster John H. McHugh, of Owenton, died very suddenly Saturday, aged 61 years. He was born in Owenton in 1832.

He was a member of the Methodist Church (Union) and was a Democrat politically until 1881 when he became a Republican. He was appointed postmaster by Dr. McHugh in 1891. Mr. John J. Smith, a well-known citizen, was nominated for postmaster by Congressman Ellis and will probably be appointed without opposition to fill the vacancy by August 1st.

BRADLEY—Mr. Alfred W. Bradley died Friday night at his home in this city, from bad poison, supposed to be arsenic. He was 48 years of age and leaves a family. He was a brewer and a member of the Greenback Club. He was a well-known citizen who has been established of the city district and followed other responsible offices. Mr. Bradley was a federal soldier and drew a pension on such. He was buried Saturday afternoon at the Union Cemetery, Follett of which was a minister.

YATES' clock was slightly damaged by smoke during the recent fire and is now being offered for sale.

The Caldwell County Democratic Convention was held at Marion for representatives and delegates to the State Convention at Marion to-day.

There was a very heavy rain in the Grayson section Sunday afternoon. The streets were filled with water. The water was down and the wheat stocks were overturned. Considerable damage is reported.

All plow shares, such as knives, forks, spoons, etc., slightly damaged by smoke, go at cost at T. E. Lyle's.

A small fire occurred yesterday at 11 o'clock. A cabin owned by Mrs. Lyle, on the 24th ult., was destroyed.

The economies of dedicating the new Virginia Street Baptist church (which will be held next Sunday) were not fully realized. Mr. Bentz had been quite ill for some time and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Bentz was the father of a large family of children, most of whom were very young.

REED—Mr. Alfred W. Reed, a well-known citizen, died Saturday afternoon at his home. He was 62 years of age and leaves a family.

He was a brewer and a member of the Greenback Club. He was a well-known citizen who has been established of the city district and followed other responsible offices. Mr. Reed was a federal soldier and drew a pension on such. He was buried Saturday afternoon at the Union Cemetery, Follett of which was a minister.

W. Mrs. Blythe and her sister, Miss Tillie Harris, will remain several weeks longer.

Rollie Bentz left Monday for a two or three days pleasure trip to Hopkinsville. He is still a business man there, but we will be four days there instead of two. -Kotka.

Owing to the desire of many persons who can afford to do so to attend the World's Fair, the C. & O. Company have decided not to run their annual excursion to Old Photo.

Books on Arm.

One little six year old daughter of Mr. A. C. Parker, fell from a white out while riding Friday and broke one of her arms. Dr. Jas. A. Young was called and the injured limb and hand were set by Dr. Parker.

Crushed by a Wyoming Pony.

Mr. Alex Cook, of Kelly, was thrown from a Wyoming pony Friday afternoon and fatally hurt. The animal had been unusually unruly and had just been ridden by a young daughter of Mr. Cook. The pony had been running and had struck the boy in the side, causing him to fall and break his arm.

Rising the Coroners.

An elderly boy, who can be identified at the proper time, took away the corner stone of the Union Tabernacle about six days after it was laid, with the intention of robbing it of the money which it contained. It was taken on the 4th of July, good to the tune of $1,000, but as this had been taken out for the coroner's expenses, it was not so much.
